Diversity is not the only justification offered for affirmative action, either in the U.S. or other parts of the world. This panel, featuring five members of the Berkeley Comparative Anti-Discrimination Law Virtual Study Group — from the United States, Europe, and Australia — will discuss global affirmative action law.

Friday, April 5, 2013
4:00 - 6:00 pm
Room 132 | UC Berkeley School of Law
RECEPTION WILL FOLLOW

PANELISTS:
Ian Haney-López: Berkeley Law (moderator)
Alvaro Oliveira: Equal Treatment Legislation Unit, European Commission
David Oppenheimer: Berkeley Law
john powell: Berkeley Law & Haas Institute for a Fair & Inclusive Society
Belinda Smith: The University of Sydney School of Law

SPONSORED BY:
EU Center of Excellence, UC Berkeley
Berkeley Anti-Discrimination Law Virtual Study Group
Thelton E. Henderson Center for Social Justice, Berkeley Law
Haas Institute for a Fair and Inclusive Society, UC Berkeley
Miller Institute for Global Challenges and Law